

PLUMBING INSPECTOR II (493-01)

SALARY: $44,304.00 - $59,654.40 annually, plus liberal fringe benefits

THE POSITION

This is responsible field inspection work securing compliance with City of Fort Lauderdale Ordinances, the Florida Building Code, and other County, State and Federal regulations, and plans review and examination work to determine whether plans, specifications, and materials conform to legally established requirements.

An employee in this class inspects plumbing installations in buildings and other structures, and enforces City, County, State and Federal codes and regulations relating to the plumbing installation phases of building construction and use. Field inspection work is usually performed independently and requires knowledge of plumbing installation methods, applicable codes, rules and regulations as well as skill and tact in explaining standards and reasons for compliance to contractors, professional engineers, architects, and others. Employees also review in detail plans and specifications of proposed plumbing installations prior to the issuance of building permits. Employees in this class usually perform the more routine plans examinations; however, more complex projects may be assigned when under closer review by a higher ranking official. The degree of field inspection versus plans review work will vary widely depending on the operational needs of the department.

NOTE: The duties of this position will include all of those duties set forth in the official job description.
